AFAQ AFNOR Certification

According to the agreement signed by the above mentioned certification bodies, any certificate granted, by either of them for a given standard, field of activity and list of locations (stated in the scope of the certificate) is equivalent to the one which the other certification body would have issued. The present document vouches for the certificate, to which it is appended, to be covered by the said agreement. The present document shall not replace, in any event, the contract signed by the firm and the respective certification body, which remains the only binding document. It shall be returned to the certification body, if so requested. This document may in no way be used for mandatory purposes and can be disclosed or copied only when accompanied by its current certification document.
